Hello,

Back in April I paid 132.00 for payroll records from 1985-1990. I received some documents. However, according to the Social Security Administration, they are not the originals signed by the employer. I'm assuming because I saw other people's payroll information on them, even though you redacted their info.

I assumed they were originals since I paid 132.00. Can you tell me where the original documents are?
